

FACULTY POSTING: Assistant Professor for Music Education

The Department of Music at Moravian College seeks a faculty member to lead its K-12 music education program and liaise with the education department. Housed in 18th century historic structures, the Moravian College Music Department is a vital and integral part of the educational and cultural environment of Moravian College and the greater Lehigh Valley. The department offers outstanding, comprehensive, and personalized degree programs in music integrated with liberal arts studies. The successful candidate should be a student-centered faculty member who will support diversity, inclusion, and a liberal arts mission. We welcome any research specialization and would especially encourage applications from scholars who are also committed to progressive pedagogy.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate courses in music education, as well as courses within the music department or general college curriculum that align with the candidate's area(s) of expertise. Other responsibilities include working with the education department to organize and supervise student teaching placements, including weekly off-site visits; mentoring and advising students; recruitment and retention; and program and curriculum development.

The candidate for this position must have a doctorate in Music Education; ABD considered. The successful candidate will have at least three years of K-12 teaching experience. Candidates with college teaching experience are preferred.

All positions are subject to budget availability.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should send cover letter, curriculum vita, philosophy of teaching statement and three (3) letters of recommendation to search.music@moravian.edu. Please send all electronic documentation in one (1) document formatted as a PDF file. The subject line should state "Asst Prof for Music Education." An incomplete application file will not be considered.

Review of the applications will begin December 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1742, Moravian College is the sixth-oldest college in the country. Moravian is a private coeducational liberal arts college that is located in historic Bethlehem, in the heart of Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley. Moravian is composed of a traditional undergraduate program, graduate, professional, and adult completion programs, and Moravian Theological Seminary.

Moravian College is committed to enhancing the diversity of our community, recognizing that to provide a diverse learning environment is to prepare students for personal and professional success in an increasingly multicultural and global society. The College community understands that it shares a responsibility for generating and preserving a learning environment where difference is valued, and inclusiveness and social justice are practiced.

The College encourages individuals from under-represented populations to apply. EOE
