MORAVIAN COLLEGE
MORAVIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Faculty Scholarship 2017
April 19, 2018
Moravian College Faculty Scholarship 2017

Dear Colleagues,

It is my privilege to highlight the peer-reviewed achievements of Moravian faculty during 2017. This year 1 book, 18 book and anthology chapters, 20 peer-reviewed articles, 1 short story, 2 group exhibitions, 2 solo exhibitions, and 2 highly competitive awards are showcased. The scholarly communities in which Moravian faculty have shared their knowledge across the disciplines illustrates the breadth and depth of the expertise and research done by our colleagues.

A focus of Moravian’s curriculum is the development of the skills needed to prepare our students to become problem solvers, creative thinkers, and individuals who contribute to the society around them. Our faculty are deeply committed to applying and modeling these scholarship traits within their disciplines. Their scholarly engagement translates into professors who are dynamic, engaging and actively seeking to expand and apply their knowledge beyond the Moravian community, which is evidenced in the 2017 publications.

I am very pleased to sponsor our 3rd Annual Faculty Scholarship recognition.

Cynthia Kosso, PhD
Provost and Dean of the Faculty

Fraleigh, Angela. Greenshields Foundation Grant for Artists, 2017. Highly Competitive Award.

Keegan, Louise C.

Keegan, Louise C.

Scifers, James R.
Scifers, James R.

Scifers, James R.

Shosh, Joseph M.

Shosh, Joseph M.

Shosh, Joseph M.

Talbott, Shannon N.

Terrizzi, Sabrina.
