

The Blue and Gray

I

The Blue and Grey, we lift on high,
And echo still the strain;
Resound ye hills, by rocks and rills,
And leap from mount to plain!
Mo-ra-vi-an! Mo-ra-vi-an!
Queen of the Lehigh Vale!
While hearts shall beat, our voices join
Mo-ra-vi-an's name to hail!

REFRAIN

For Blue and Grey! For Blue and Grey!
Our lives and all that we can give!
Here's life and health! Long life and wealth!
Long live the Blue and Grey!
The Blue and Grey!

II

The Blue shall stand for Union blood
That died the slave to free;
The Grey for the South and the Cause Once lost—
They shall be one in Thee!
Mo-ra-vi-an! Mo-ra-vi-an!
Let vale and hillside ring!
Then lift our song, the lay prolong!
Mo-ra-vi-an's fame to sing!
