Experiential Learning in Global Health

February 29–March 7, 2020 (Spring Break)

NURS 322

Explore Central America's second largest country, Honduras, as you study global health issues specific to high-risk populations and contribute to the learning community through individual research projects. This 8-day trip over spring break is a requirement of the NURS 322 2 TR course and is led by Moravian professors, Dr. Pamela Adamschick and Dr. Beth Gotwals. The Moravian College Nursing program has been impacting health through a local faith-based organization—Healthy Ninos Honduras—since 2009. Consider joining our Spring Break 2020 team!
